

District 35 School Board Member – Glencoe Caucus Slate for the April 1, 2025 Consolidated Election

Enna Allen

Enna Allen is deeply committed to continuing her service on the Glencoe School Board and is slated for a second four-year term. Professionally, she is the Senior Vice President of Marketing for Simon Property Group. Enna has lived in Glencoe since 2007 with her husband Jim and 2 daughters. Rachel is an 8th grader at Central and Olivia is a Senior at New Trier. Since joining the board in 2021, Enna has been a champion for inclusive educational policies, equitable resource access, and supportive programs for teachers and staff. She has served on key committees like Communications, Technology, and True North. Enna understands the importance of maintaining a strong educational foundation for all students in our community. Her desire to continue to serve is rooted in a genuine commitment to advancing our district's strategic goals while keeping Glencoe's values at the forefront.

Ashley Conrad

Ashley Conrad has lived in Glencoe for 6 years with her husband Neil and their three children, Elise (age 7), Ian (age 5), and Kate (age 3). She is being slated for a four-year term. Ashley is a teacher by profession and has spent most of her career in the public-school setting. Currently, she is the morning lead teacher at the JCC at Am Shalom. With three young children who attend or will attend District 35 schools, she has a vested personal interest in preserving and improving the quality of public education in Glencoe. Ashley is a big believer in public education. She sees it as the most equitable and inclusive education option available. It anchors new growth in a community and offers a broad range of services and benefits that go beyond academics.

Hamilton Hill

Hamilton Hill and his wife Traci moved to Glencoe in 2015, and he is being slated for a four-year term. They have a daughter in 5th grade at Central and a son in Kindergarten at South. Professionally, Hamilton is an attorney. Hamilton wants to be on the school board because he has always had an interest in education. For this, he credits his mom who was a teacher and principal for over 40 years. With both of his kids in Glencoe schools, Hamilton feels that being on the District 35 School Board will be an important way to serve his community.

Brooke Semel

Brooke Semel has lived in Glencoe for 6 years with her husband, Brian, and her 2 daughters, and is being slated for a four-year term. Her daughter Leah is in 8th grade and her daughter Grace is in 5th grade. Brooke has been in education for 23 years and is still working in leadership for a large network of charter high schools in Chicago. She is eager to combine her expertise in education with her passion for helping others to serve her community. Brooke is looking forward to being part of the District 35 School Board as a thought partner and collaborator with school leaders and helping the district to continue to thrive.
